DEDICATION

Phyllis R. Brown

The Junior Prom

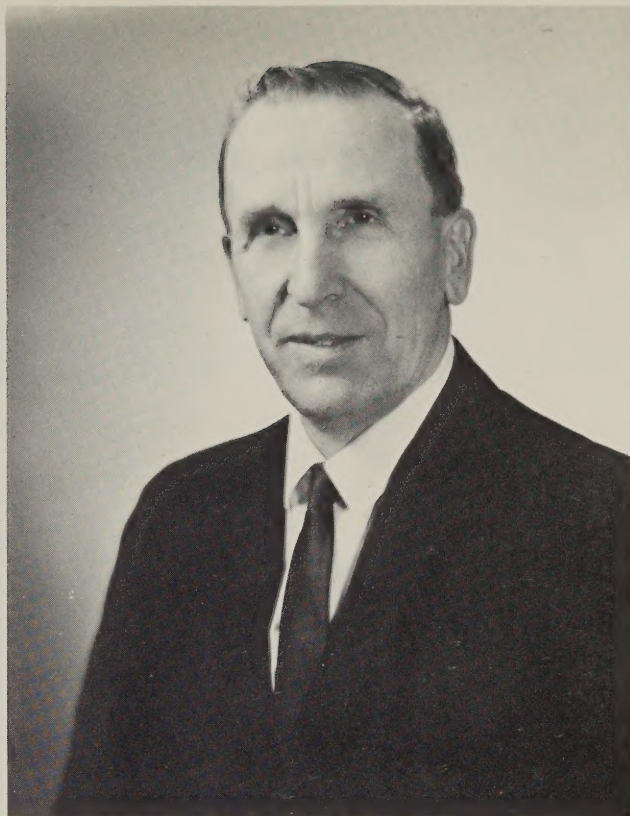

In recognition of your devotion to our class and to the Academy, we, the Class of 1965, dedicate our Pinkerton Critic to you, Phyllis Robertson Brown. You have unselfishly given of your time and talents to help us live up to the Pinkerton traditions. Our class will long remember you as a dedicated teacher and a friend.

For a century and a half, Pinkerton Academy has served as a gateway to the future by preparing its students to meet the challenge of adulthood. Seven different curricula are offered, with opportunities within each one for a student to select those subjects best suited to his own needs and preferences.

But all of this would be meaningless without the faculty. Our books have taught us facts and figures, but our teachers have given us understanding. Their own enthusiasm has awakened in us a lasting curiosity and a love of learning. For having helped us so much through their patience and guidance, their concern, and the many hours they so willingly have given to us both in and out of class, we would like to give them a special vote of thanks.

CLASS HISTORY

In September 1961, ninety timid students, the first freshman class in eight years, enrolled at Pinkerton Academy. With the able guidance of our adviser, Mr. MacDonald, we elected our first class officers: President, Gary Greenwood; Vice-President, Cynthia Nicoll; Secretary, Cathy Bellevue; Treasurer, Roger Cummings; and Student Council Members, Susan Smith and John Boisse. Janice Rowe wrote our class cheer and we became the "grand" class of 1965. Our banner, proudly bearing the colors of turquoise and white, soon hung in the chapel.

As the weeks sped by, October arrived, bringing with it our long awaited initiation. None of us will ever forget dressing up as Dopeys and Lulus and carrying signs proclaiming, "I am a big wheel being run down". At the reception that night, the Seniors did their best to make us feel at home, even allowing Bruce MacLeod to ride in a beautifully decorated baby carriage.

In June, at graduation, we proudly watched as Susan Smith was presented the Elias Haskett Derby Award.

In our Sophomore year our class was enlarged by the Derry students from Hood Junior High School. On initiation day the new students had their turn at dressing up, as they paraded around school with bathing caps and nylon stocking hats, carrying signs which read "I am having a fruitful experience" and "I have a basic problem". At the Sophomore Reception our class was officially united.

This year we changed four of our officers. Linda Pelletier became Vice-President; Mary Owen, Secretary; Mary Lou Hamilton and Tom Buckley, Student Council members. Mrs. Phyllis Brown became our class adviser. After much debate, we changed our class adjective from "grand" to "colossal".

As the activities began, the Sophomore class was well represented. Betty Barrieau was chosen as a varsity cheerleader and Judy Simpson and Mary Lou Hamilton were selected for the Junior Varsity squad. Jean Anastasia, Linda Pelletier, and Janice Rowe became Chapel Pianists. Three of our classmates—Bill Newcomb, Scott Follansbee, and Gary Greenwood—became Lettermen.

At graduation, Sharon Pieroni received the Wilder Music Award; Linda Pelletier received the Elias Haskett Derby Award, and John Boisse and Pat Sypher were given the Latin Award.

We began our third year at the Academy anticipating the long awaited pleasures of being upper classmen. We were the first Juniors to have home-rooms in the spacious new Shepard Building.

The only changes in our class officers were Ginny Hanf as Secretary and Bill Newcomb, Student Council Member. We were pleased to have Mrs. Brown back as our adviser, and we welcomed Mr. Johnson as our new adviser.

On a day in November the whole class took part in initiating the underclassmen. They were good sports and we were happy to welcome them as fellow schoolmates.

As activities started, Judy Simpson joined the Varsity cheering squad and Mary Lou Hamilton became the captain of the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. The Girls' Field Hockey team fought hard and won the championship trophy for the class. Linda Pelletier became our first Letterwoman.

On an enchanted night in February we were all whisked away to a land "Somewhere over the Rainbow". We realized, as we gazed at the colorful rainbow and beautiful castle that all our hours of work had not been in vain. The Class of '65, working together, had made the first Prom in the Shepard gymnasium a truly memorable one.

In the spring our enthusiasm for the Junior Play

of four exciting years

made "Once in Every Family" a tremendous success. It was the last play to be held in Adams Memorial Hall and our ticket sales hit a new high.

On Class Day night the annual Declamation contest was held in the auditorium. Five finalists presented their Declamations and Judy Simpson placed first with "The Fish Story".

Jean Anastasia and Judy Simpson were selected as delegates to Girls' State while Bill Newcomb and Harold Stevens represented us at Boys' State. Judy was sent to Washington as a delegate to Girls' Nation.

At graduation Leslie Lessard received the Bingham Latin Prize and Susan Smith, the French Club Award. Wilder Music Awards were presented to Bruce Fellows, Cynthia Nicoll, Robert Moore, and Paul Vadeboncoeur.

We were swirled into the activities of our senior year before we realized it. Pete Davenport was elected to the Student Council while our other officers remained the same. We began our year of fun with the traditional Senior Corn Roast at Chase's grove. The senior girls' field hockey team flew into action and won the championship for the second year in a row.

Betty Barrieau was chosen head cheerleader and as she beat the P. A. drum, Mary Lou Hamilton and Judy Simpson helped to cheer our team to victory.

Another first was added to our list with the introduction of "Senior Spirit Week" set up to encourage school spirit during the last week of the football season. Football ended proudly as three seniors—Lance Keith, Bill Newcomb, and Gary Greenwood, were chosen for All State.

The Senior Play, "The Mouse that Roared", was the first play to be held in the Shepard Auditorium. The class outdid itself by selling 1900 tickets. The cast and their guests enjoyed a spaghetti dinner in the cafeteria following the second performance.

The measuring for caps and gowns, the taking of senior pictures, working on the yearbook, the practicing for Baccalaureate and Graduation reminded us that our Academy days were coming to a close. The Senior Howl was our final fling as a class. After this, came Class Day and Graduation. And, as on graduation day, the Colossal Class of '65 marched down the Senior steps for the last time, we realized that our lives were just beginning. Pinkerton had opened the door to the future.

In Memoriam

KAREN CLEMENT

The Class of 1965 was saddened by the loss of our friend and classmate.

PINKERTON ACADEMY

SENIOR SPIRIT WEEK

Senior Spirit Week was another first for the Class of 1965. It was held the last week of the football season and was designed to promote school spirit. Monday was Color Day. The Seniors wore red and white, the school colors, along with beanies and buttons. On Tuesday, Loud Day, the campus was bright with many weird color combinations. All day the Seniors remained silent in the halls to show their determination to win the game. Warrior Day found the Senior members of the football team wearing their jerseys. The week ended with a gigantic Pep Rally on Friday. Once again the Colossal Class of 1965 had come through.

UNDERGRADS

*The Pinkerton doorways may seem huge and forbidding when first approached by the underclassmen;
however, as they engage in the many activities of the their classes, the the doors open and the students become an integral

LETTERMEN OFFICERS

Kneeling: David Jesson, Secretary-Treasurer. Standing: Scott Follansbee, President; Harold Stevens, Vice President.

The Lettermen's Association is one of the oldest and most prominent groups at the Academy. The members are primarily interested in service and participation. There is hardly a school function that does not find the Lettermen supervising and helping. A project for the year has been sponsoring record hops to raise money to buy a pitching machine for the baseball team.

LETTERWOMEN

The Letterwomen's Association is one of the most active groups on the campus. Here the girls, who have earned letters through hard work and participation in numerous school activities, join together to support the school and the students. They sponsor the Pep Club and sell the traditional beanies and buttons, and help out in many ways to make the school better. Along with the Lettermen, they sponsor a homecoming dance for the students and Pinkerton alumni, following the Christmas Concert. Another project has been posting each month a school activities calendar on the bulletin board of the Shepard building.

Each Letterwoman is proud to wear her letter which represents Pinkerton Academy.

CRITIC STAFF

The Critic Literary Staff has worked hard to recapture the events and memories of our four years at Pinkerton. After the theme was selected, the staff, with the help of Miss Abbott, set to work writing articles and selecting pictures which would make the 1965 Critic the best ever.

The Business Staff set a high goal and attained it through ambition and drive. They canvassed Derry and the surrounding towns in order to obtain ads to make our book a financial success.

BAND AND MAJORETTES . . .

The Band is a popular activity at the Academy with its membership growing each year. The Band added color to the football games as, under Mr. Hutchins' direction, the members performed at half time. At the annual Christmas and Spring concerts the Band also got an opportunity to show the results of all their long hours of practice.

There has been a new addition to the music program — the Dance Band. This group, composed of some of the more advanced musicians, presented modern jazz selections at the Spring Concert. The Dance Band may very well become an integral part of Pinkerton activities.

... GLEE CLUB AND CHOIR

The Girls' Chorus, composed of 200 voices, presented a Christmas Concert. In the Spring they were joined by the newly formed Boys' Chorus and the gym echoed with strains of the Pinkerton Hymn and other fine selections. These two groups give both experienced and inexperienced singers an opportunity to be a part of a large choral group.

The Chapel Choir is composed of some of the more experienced singers in the school. They sing more difficult music and, because of the limited size of the group, receive more individual training.

All of the musical groups have worked hard for a very special purpose. For the first time at the Academy, a record of the Spring Concert was made. This will serve as a lasting memory of a full year of preparation and accomplishment.

With their bright uniforms and shiny batons, the majorettes add color wherever they go. Marching in front of the band at football games, the majorettes encouraged the team and were a credit to Pinkerton as well.

JUNIOR PROM . . .

JUNIOR PROM

Plans for the Prom began in December and our class worked hard to make a dream into a reality. Thousands of flowers were made, as committees carefully organized the Junior Prom which was held the 21st of February. That night the new Shepard gym was transformed into a heavenly scene, "Somewhere Over the Rainbow". As we passed through the floral entrance, before us stood a golden castle glittering and gleaming upon a white cloud, interwoven with turquoise flowers proclaiming the Colossal Class of '65. As we danced beneath the stars, we could see in the distance a beautiful rainbow extending across this dream land, highlighted with singing blue birds and a pot of gold. Surrounding us was the frosted blue sky of this paradise reflecting the majestic colors of the rainbow. Our plans and dreams had become a reality as the Class of '65 held "our" Junior Prom, "Somewhere Over the Rainbow".

SENIOR PLAY

On December 10th and 12th the loud roar of a tiny mouse announced the presentation of the first Senior Play to be held in the Shepard Auditorium.

The Mouse That Roared, written by Leonard Wibberly, was a satire on the United States. A microscopic country sent a small band of men armed with bows and arrows to conquer the United States. With the help of a few ironical events, the men of Grand Fenwick subdued the United States and procured the world's most dangerous weapon, the Q Bomb. Realizing the power of this weapon, they brought peace to the World by using the bomb as a threat to any aggressor.

Under the excellent direction of Miss Garland and the splendid work of Miss Brown and Mr. Conner, the play was a tremendous success.

After the announcement that 1930 tickets had been sold, the cast and their guests enjoyed a spaghetti dinner in the cafeteria. Everyone left with the feeling that the Class of '65 had once again worked together to make the Senior Play rewarding and enjoyable.

"Once In Every Family"

JUNIOR PLAY

For many years the Adams Memorial Hall opened its doors to Pinkerton Academy class play productions; however, our Junior Play was the last to be held there as the Shepard Auditorium was ready for use.

Once In Every Family, a delightful family comedy, dealt with the problems and frustrations of a father forced to supervise his children in the absence of his wife. The hilarious plot involved Mr. Brooks in a series of situations with which he was unable to cope. After a weekend of complicated teenage romance, crazy neighbors, and an ulcer, Mr. Brooks was happy to see his wife return.

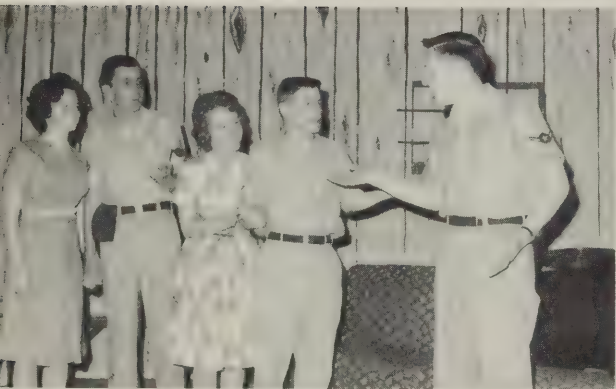

The class worked hard and sold a record 1700 tickets. After the final performance, the cast and their guests enjoyed a buffet supper in the cafeteria. The Class of '65 will always remember the Junior Play as one of its first united efforts.

"I'm Betsy, and if you kiss me, I'll run you through."

We do all the work and they get all the laughs.

What's the scoop?

If you think you can intimidate me!

They said it was elbow macaroni!

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

A junior or senior who is chosen for membership in the National Honor Society receives one of the highest honors Pinkerton Academy can grant. Members must not only maintain an eighty-five or better scholastic average but must also display outstanding qualities of character, leadership and service.

The purpose of the Honor Society is twofold: It exists both as an organization to provide service in the school and to broaden the interests and knowledge of its members. At present service projects include a book fair and tutoring for students who need extra help.

In ratifying the state constitution last year, our chapter formally became part of a statewide organization. This year, through the various state-sponsored conferences and trips, we have benefitted greatly from contact with other Honor Societies. We are proud that one of our members, Roger Cummings, has served during the past year as Pinkerton's first state officer.

The Student Council at Pinkerton is a representative body composed of two students from each class. The members are elected by popular vote and serve to represent the student body. Also, in helping to provide the students with a well-balanced social program, the council decides upon which activities are to be held throughout the year. In the future, the Council hopes to join the newly-formed state organization of Student Councils as the Pinkerton members feel they can better serve their school by being more aware of what other Student Councils of schools throughout New Hampshire are doing.

CHEERLEADERS

CHEERLEADERS

The Pinkerton Cheerleaders, in their colorful uniforms of red and white, are heard and admired at each football and basketball game throughout the year. Their enthusiasm has promoted school spirit, and has encouraged more student participation at Pinkerton athletic functions. One of the projects of the Cheerleaders this year was to lead the Pep Club, organized by the Letterwomen. At the meetings, the Cheerleaders taught the club members the cheers, traditional and new, that they had perfected at daily practice after school. In March 1964, our Cheerleaders received recognition for their hard work, originality, and precision by winning a Regional Tournament at Nashua.

Pinkerton is proud of its Cheerleaders and the way they have cheered our teams to victory.

The membership in the French Club was so large this year that the advisers divided it into two groups. French I and II, with their advisers, Mrs. Hehre and Mr. St. Gelais, enjoyed a speaker who showed slides of France, learned French Christmas Carols, and sponsored a Sock Hop in the cafeteria. French III and IV, under the direction of Mr. DesMeules, enjoyed similar activities.

Both of these groups helped to give the students a better understanding of the country and people whose language they were studying.

LATIN AND SPANISH CLUBS

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club, this year under the direction of Mr. DesMeules, has been very active. Its main purpose is to give members a knowledge of Latin culture and civilization and thereby inculcate in its members a knowledge and liking of the people who were the backbone of our present day Western civilization. The Club has sponsored different social activities such as dances, fudge sales, and a trip to a museum. All in all, the purpose is to motivate the students to cultivate an appreciation for the past which can be beneficial to them both now and in the future.

SPANISH CLUB

Spanish Club is composed of Spanish I and II students who are interested in learning more about Spanish customs and culture. The officers have worked with Mrs. Brown to make the meetings enjoyable. At Christmas the club went caroling at the homes of the faculty who live in the Village and later the members enjoyed a party, complete with a pinata. Other activities, such as the showing of slides of Spain, rounded out the year's program.

The P. A. Tower is a project undertaken by the seniors to let us know "what's what" at P. A. Like any school newspaper, it serves to inform the students of the various activities which take place throughout the school year. Because of the interest, cooperation, and effort involved, we feel that the Tower is one of the features which gives Pinkerton the closely-knit atmosphere we know and love.

LIBRARY STAFF

The library staff members, a group of seniors and juniors who aid Miss Abbott in running our library, have the opportunity to help to open the doors of adventure and learning for fellow students. This year the staff has participated in the Granite State Student Library Assistants Association. Through this, they have acquired better skills in library techniques and have met other library assistants from various parts of the state.

F.F.A. and ART CLUB

The Future Farmers of America is a definite part of Pinkerton Academy. It is a national organization comprised of boys interested in agriculture. The Clicking Clan, as the club is called, is under the guidance of Mr. Conner. The aims and purposes of the organization are to develop competent, aggressive, agricultural leadership. It strives to give a boy the confidence in himself to use the knowledge that he has obtained to improve in scholarship, to encourage and practice thrift, and to learn to love the country. Certainly we know the importance Mr. Conner and his boys play when the Prom and class plays occur. Therefore it is with this in and thereby inculcate in its members a knowl-

The Art Club, for its second year, has been under the direction of Miss Brown. The main purpose of the Art Club is to further the interests of students with artistic abilities and to provide a chance to bring out and develop any artistic talent that the students may have. This year the students have done work in ceramics, pen and ink, pastels, paper mache and watercolors. The club held a dance and took a trip to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

THE ASTRONAUTS . . .

FOOTBALL

This year's football squad was small in number but the boys worked very hard. Double practice sessions on those hot August days were no fun; but after a look at their record, the team knew it was worth it.

The first taste of reward began with the opening game with Sanborn Seminary which the Astronauts won 22-6. Then glory seemed to fluctuate by losing to Hampton and beating Stevens then losing to Exeter and beating Manchester West. However, the Astronauts broke this pattern for a while by winning the next two games with Hanover and Bishop Brady. The winning streak was broken again with the loss of the last game to Somersworth. But it is evident from this pattern that the team was in there all the time playing its best.

The success of this year's team is reflected by their representation on the All State Team. Lance Keith, a Pinkerton guard, made the first team and Captain Bill Newcomb and Center Gary Greenwood won berths on the second team.

BASKETBALL

P. A. BASKETBALL

The Pinkerton basketball team, under the leadership of Captain Paul Brassard and coaching of Mr. Paquette, had another fine season in their second year of Class I competition. The Pinkerton Astronauts ended their season with a 12-5 record and won a berth in the Class I Tournament.

The spirit and teamwork of this year's club brought the new Shepard gym many exciting exhibitions of fine basketball. Perhaps the most exciting games were the hard-fought Bishop Brady contests. Although these games were defeats for the defending Class I Champions, they were the closest any Class I team had come to beating them. Therefore, they were moral victories for the Astronauts.

High scorers for the season were Rick Knowles and Captain Paul Brassard.

Although Coach Paquette is losing all of the starting five, the J.V. group seems to be a fine prospect that should give their opponent a battle.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Under the apt coaching of Miss Cournoyer and the skill-full leadership of Captain Peggy Demers, the girls had another winning year. The many hours that were spent practicing our newly-learned skills were richly rewarding as the season ended with 8 wins and 5 losses.

Miss Cournoyer, Miss Brown, and the team agree that this record is not indicative of the exciting games that we played. At home we lost to Exeter by 3, and Nashua by one point. During the away games, Woodbury defeated us by 3, while Exeter edged us in the second overtime by 4.

In order to complement the red satin uniforms that were purchased last year, the Athletic Association bought us new white satin warm-up jackets. The jackets are beautiful, and we are proud to wear them.

FIELD HOCKEY

The Class of 1965's field hockey team is a group of fun-loving but determined amateur athletes. Our record as a team is indicative of this. As freshmen, however, we were toppled by every other class because of a lack of experience. With new recruits in the sophomore year, the girls nearly edged the Class of 1964. But these juniors rallied in the last quarter and won.

We were "out to fight, out to win" in our junior year. Our efforts were rewarded as we turned the tide on the seniors and won the play-off game.

A tremendous spirit sparked our senior year as we were undefeated throughout the regular season. A fitting end to our P. A. field hockey career was the annual "Senior Boys vs. Senior Girls" game. What an exciting and rough encounter that was! The boys tried to match their brawn with our experience. The game ended with the "Beasts" tied with the "Beauties" (6-6).

BASEBALL

Last spring the Pinkerton Baseball Team, under the direction of Mr. Root and Mr. Riddervold, started off slow but progressed rapidly. They took the Central I League Championship with a record of 10-5 and then went on to win the state title. This was the first baseball championship P. A. had ever won.

This year the prospects look good. The pitching staff is returning and some good material is coming up from the J.V. Squad. It is going to be tough to defend the title but P. A. will do it.

TRACK

Since the building of the track in 1961, many boys have taken an interest in the sport. This year under the direction of Coach Barksdale, a winter program was set up for those boys who showed an extreme interest for the sport. The program was constructed to condition the boys for the spring season. It is evident that these boys benefited from this program and bettered last year's meet record of 4-2.

TRACK

First Row: L. Halleran, T. Omar, R. Sakash, P. Hoover, G. St. Germain, Mr. Barksdale, T. Bellavance, R. Cummings, B. MacLeod, J. Caldwell. Second Row: J. Nichols, C. Myette, G. Keith, W.

ADVERTISEMENTS

The Class of '65 would like to express its appreciation to the businessmen, organizations, parents, and friends who have supported the yearbook so generously. The class realizes that without this interest, the yearbook would not be possible. The Senior Class urges the readers to patronize the business establishments listed on the following pages.
